

Hearts At War

HIM

So, after all that we have done
Are you feeling cold like the winter sun
And have you thought about all the words that
We left unsaid, don't be scared
(You shouldn't be)

Hearts at war drunk on dreams
Of all that's been lost, now
Let them bleed
Just let them...

Run away as far as you can
And hide behind all the promises
But I'll find you, 'cause you are a fire
And I'm the rain, don't be afraid
(Maybe you should be)

Hearts at war drunk on dreams
Of all that's been lost, now
Let them bleed
Hearts at war, for think of love and
There is no escaping
What we have brought upon ourselves again

Hearts at war drunk on dreams
Of all that's been lost, now
Let them bleed
Hearts at war, for think of love and
There is no escaping
What we have brought upon ourselves again
There's no way out, baby
We brought this upon ourselves again
