

Enemies

Shinedown

Listen up
There's not a moment to spare
It's quite a drop from the top
So how you feeling down there
It's a cold, cruel, harsh reality
Caught, stuck, here with your enemies Who do you think you are?
Tearing us all apart
Where did you think you could go?
'Cause everyone already knows
It's 20 to 1
Yeah, so you better run
You got the world on itss knees
You're taking all that you please
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me
You like the burden we bare
You love the hate that we share
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me but enemies!
Enemies You started something that you just couldn't stop
You turn the ones that you love
Into and angry ass mob
And the one, last, wish is that you pay for it
And there's no way you're getting out of this
Who do you think you are?
Tearing us all apart
Where did you think you could go?
'Cause everyone already knows
It's 20 to 1
Yeah, so you better run You got the world on its knees
You're taking all that you please
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me
You like the burden we bare
You love the hate that we share
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me but enemies!
Enemies!
Enemies!
Where did you think you could go 'Cause everyone already knows
It's 20 to 1
Yeah, so you better run

You got the world on its knees You're taking all that you please
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me
You like the burden we bare
You love the hate that we share
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me
You got the world on its knees You're taking all that you please
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me
You're like the burden we bare
You love the hate that we share
You want more
But you'll get nothing from me but enemies!
Enemies!
Enemies!
