

Quicksand

Natalie Walker

I must have been so stupid

I must have been so out of touch

He must have been so clever

Convincing me that this was really love

Desperate for words, lost in a maze,

It fell apart, I lost my place,

It hurt so bad, I cried for days

Time healed all pain, now I'm okay

How many times can my heart break,

Disillusioned by the thought of flawless love?

Will I ever get there or am I drowning in quicksand, waiting on relief to come?

Desperate for words, lost in a maze,

It fell apart, I lost my place,

It hurt so bad, I cried for days

Time healed all pain, now I'm okay

I'll rise from all my sorrow,

Let the sun shine on my face

All alone in comfort,

It's my solitude I will embrace

I will rise from the sorrow
