

Never Want to Live Without You

Eric Benét

I'm known to have a heart that love couldn't find I use to come and go no thought of what I left behind but now some how I've grown to see the world through brand new eyes a better world that you've shown to me yes When you were gone felt like the stars were pointless to shine and my my days dragged on with out a cause or reason to find baby but on my own i'm just a lonely waste of time that should be spent with you faithfully

So I never want to live with out you baby (No baby) never gonna live with out you no I never want to live with out you (Can't live with out you) never want to live cause your the biggest part of my life never gonna live with out you (Build my world around you) never make it through with out you all the love you bring to mee

I was blind such a fool but now I see darling just hold my hand where ever we are just hold me and now this second chance to start a life and family I thank the lord and you for this gift to me So I never want to live with out you baby (I'll never live without you babe) never gonna live to doubt you (never gonna live to doubt your love)no I never want to live with out you babyoh no) never want to live without the biggest part of my life going through my world without you babe (wanna build my world) never make it through with out you (No baby) all the love you bring to mee yeah baby

Thank you for the love when you knew I was wrong(Oh girl) Thank you for the chance to run back to your arms where I belong yeah I don't need to see who what what is there on the other side cause you are my love my life until the day I die ooh ooh(never wanna) oooooo oohh (never gonna) never never oh I never wanna oh no no I never want to live never gonna live Never want to live with out you baby never gonna live with out you no I never want to live with out you baby never want to live never gonna live I never want to live without your love baby(never gonna live to doubt you)no I never want to live with out you by my side never want to live never gonna live never wanna live without you baby
