

Fiction In the Fire

Adam Tell

[Verse 1]An open heart policyWe made an honest fantasyOur oldest secrets thrown away into the streamWe're different now than when we metWe break, we fight, we get upsetI know the signs, but I won't stand to lose you yet[Chorus]Thread the stitch, don't rip this wide openPatch it quick before we find what's brokenHolding on to fiction in the fireKeeping calm while we burnWhile we burn[Verse 2]Bleeding out, caving inRunning low on safety pinsWe took the good and wore it down to the skinWe let it leave without consentWe bet it all on good intentAnd now we're left with love's, love's lament[Chorus]Thread the stitch, don't rip this wide openPatch it quick before we find what's brokenHolding on to fiction in the fireKeep you calm while we burnWhile we burn[Post-Chorus]That flicker in your eyesCan we keep this fire alive?
