

Time (feat. DeathbyRomy)

WHIPPED CREAM

[Verse 1]

Lightyears in the making
Hearts strong as the world we're paving
Carving circles in the sand
I stand alone on the pavement
Sign a note to the stars
To hear your command
Write a letter to the girl you were before
Tell her you refuse to take shit
Burn it up and breathe in the taste of the smoke
As you bask in the moonlight
Under a blanket of hundreds of billions of stars

[Pre-Break 1]

Say a prayer for the martyrs
They have died and been born so many times
Blow a kiss to a lover
To the one you lost or the ones who tried
Say a prayer for the martyrs
They have died and been born so many times
Blow a kiss to a lover

To the one you lost or the ones who tried

[Instrumental Break]

[Verse 2]

We're captured in the night sky

Flying free for our homes and families

Why run so fast though?

There's nothing to lose in this life that's free

I know we're all just trying

But are you trying to live or just trying to ride?

I just want you to think twice

I don't wanna see you lose your wings

I know we all try flying

But flying takes time and you just want space

You can't rely on perfect timing

If you're running from yourself you must find space

[Pre-Break 2]

Though we all are special

This is no human race

No, this is no human race

This is no human race

Though we all are special

[Instrumental Break]

[Outro]

So please don't be afraid to try
