I Don't Feel Very Receptive Today

Underoath

This door has been shut for days And it's all too familiar Can't I just crack a window? Can't I just shake it off?

I'm sure I've tasted this before, before, before

Everything is out of reach And I just want to see outside The air, the air has been getting thin

I feel like cutting it open tonight, tonight, yeah
And falling on the floor

There's nothing left unused in here There's nothing left to say

I haven't talked in days
And I'm really not too sure
What I sound like anymore
My vision has gone and my mouth is full, is full of sores

I feel like dripping it dry tonight, yeah Over and over again It's time, it's time to open up the door

Lyrics provided by https://www.songarea.com/