

Little Bit

3 Winans Brothers

So many twist and turns ahead I can't see
Said you'd be there when I call
The world's in a state of emergency this I know
I don't have to worry at all With just a little bit more of You and a little bit less of me
I find all of my hopes and dreams they come true
With just a little bit more of You and then a little bit less of me
And then all of Your promises You will do You gave me a word to believe in You're on my side
Tears only last through the night, yes they do
Joy will be here when the morning comes and I know
That everything else will be fine
With just a little bit more of You and then a little bit less of me
I find all of my hopes and dreams they come true
With just a little bit more of You and then a little bit less of me
And then all of Your promises You will do How do I will it to love
With a little bit more of You
How do I trust and forgive
With a little bit more of You
You promised this broken heart You would heal
With a little bit more of You
Yeah and all of this I'll achieve
With a little bit less of me
With just a little bit more of You and then a little bit less of me
I find all of my hopes and dreams they come true
If just a little bit more of You and then a little bit less of me
And then all of Your promises You will do

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>