

Spun

Sublime With Rome

I'm spun. Just like a raisin in the sun,
I'm fried up, but the fun has just begun.
And I swear, with all the love inside my head,
I've gotta dish it out and gotta share.
But lately, I've been walking this road,
searching for an end.
But I finally figured out. Ban me from your company and I'll meet you where the sunlight meets the gold.
Show me something I've never seen
and I promise I'll be right there waiting.
I'm free from all the judgment that you put on me
And I know it grows and I know it dies inside.
I shake just so I can get a breath.
'Cause if they had it their way
they would push me to my death.
'Cause I've been walking this road,
searching for an end.
But I've finally figured out. Ban me from your company and I'll meet you where the sunlight meets the road.
Show me something I've never seen
and I promise I'll be right there waiting.
And destroy what we've made this time.
And watch it grow and die inside.
Oh we'll watch it grow, then we'll watch it die.
Oh this time it's for real. We'll watch it die
And we'll watch it grow and die
