

Gold Rush

Ed Sheeran

Smoke alarm went off at 9
I woke up, wiped the sleep out of my eye
She left a note: "I'll be back in 5"
Well, I'm still waiting for that moment to arrive, hey I was told to put my job in front of you But it won't hold me like you do But I do it for the love, waiting on the gold rush
Keep it on the edge, smoking on a roll-up When I see my friends, all they say is "hold up
And remember the time
When we were in school listening to grown-ups
Didn't learn a thing, but then again you know what? You know how to sing
But you don't know anything other than that
So maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way you want to be loved "I never told her that I liked
The way she dances slightly out of time And pretends she knows the words
To a song she's never heard But I tell her all the time, hey I was told to put my job in front of you
But it won't hold me like you do But I do it for the love, waiting on the gold rush
Keep it on the edge, smoking on a roll-up
When I see my friends, all they say is "hold up
And remember the time
When we were in school listening to grown/ups
Didn't learn a thing, but then again you know what?
You know how to sing But you don't know anything other than that
So maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way you want to be loved "Hey I do it for the love, waiting on the gold rush
Keep it on the edge, smoking on a roll-up When I see my friends, all they say is "hold up
And remember the time
When we were in school listening to grown ups
Didn't learn a thing, but then again you know what?
You know how to sing
But you don't know anything other than that
So maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her

Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way
And maybe you should learn to love her
Like, like the way you want to be loved"
