Say Nothing

Example

With you by my side, I felt like I'd arrived
I was lost and found, I feel kinda selfish
And selfish is helpless, I dragged you downWe somehow delayed it
I played it so basic we fooled our crowd
So nice on the surface but somehow we burnt it
Now words don't mean a thingYou don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking You don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking I get home at half five, we fight 'til the sunrise

We won't back down, the subjects worth hiding

It's high stakes we're riding, it all falls down

Twice strikes the lightning

The night had me high under its dark spell

Now I fight back, you fight back

Won't wave your white flag

Our words don't mean a thingDon't speak, don't speak no more

'Cause your eyes do the talking

Don't speak, don't speak no more

'Cause your eyes do the talking You don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking

You don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking(Let's talk)

We used to have our eggs sunny side up

But the fun dried up

And now I feel like our time's up

I can see you wanna talk but your tongues tied up

Gotta wise up, can't keep hiding, can't keep sliding

Down that one way road to oblivion

I've told you a million times where my heads at

But it's all arguments and who's winning 'emSometimes the right words don't surface Shut up, pretend it's all perfect, brain short circuits so

I look into your eyes and I don't feel worthlessWhat I said, you know I never meant it Like somebody keeps finishing my sentence

No more tears, no more lies

I know what you want when you say it with your eyesDon't speak, don't speak no more

'Cause your eyes do the talking

Don't speak, don't speak no more

'Cause your eyes do the talking You don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking

You don't have to say nothing, say nothing

'Cause your eyes do the talking
