

Golden Days (feat. Jill Scott)

Kem

Lyrics from Jill Scott's rap in Golden Days, by Kem

What exactly, my dear, are you clinging to? Some propaganda stating you're going as far as you're going to? That your skies are finite and limited? That your growth is an impossible dream, that your future is inhibited. Oh please! They have been shoveling them lies since the 50s? can't nobody decide what your life can move through! This is YOUR time and YOUR challenge. What is it that YOU want to do? Sit and be still and not shine the way your life was meant to?

Oh, I pray that ain't true! I pray that ain't true!

Oh please, don't fall in the abyss because something negative once ruled you. Please! Understand I'm from where you are and I've got to fight my demons too. Please! Don't give up because somebody broke your heart or some things fell through.

This is LIFE. You owe it. Life does not owe you.

An obstacle is a thing that impedes or blocks one's way. You can climb over? you can dig under? you can chip through it? you can go around it? you can move it?. you can ignore it!

But you CAN do it! YOU CAN DO IT!
