

Yaya (feat. Eric Bellinger)

Bobby Brackins

Finally in the sun town baby
I been waiting for this
Kiss you in some new places baby
I go dumb when I lick
Have you wet up, I'm townin' lately
You should read up on this
Heard you attracted to genius baby
You won't mind pretty kids I just want some equity, I ain't tripping off rims
But I still put the matte black on the winds
And everything I took, hold on should've bought to some tip
A stolen piece of property, yeah your girl about to whip
Off her drawers like the lightskin, throw 'em on the drawer
Better [?] your tints 'cause we got a massive sport
Katy Perry with this shit, I can make you roar
Don't tell your man, just unlock the back door
I'm coming through for the yaya, I'm coming through
I'm coming through for the yaya, I'm coming through
Like girl I'm coming through, I'm coming through Girl I'm coming through
I'm coming through for the yaya Lot of lean in your [?] baby
I been waiting for this
Let's get straight to sexin' baby
I made a playlist
You has [?] some out clean baby
You gon' learn some of this, dance
I know you got good good baby
I know you the shit
I just want some equity, I ain't tripping off rims
But I still put the matte black on the winds
And everything I took, hold on should've bought to some tip
A stolen piece of property, yeah your girl about to whip
Off her drawers like the lightskin, throw 'em on the drawer
Better [?] your tints 'cause we got a massive sport
Katy Perry with this shit, I can make you roar
Don't tell your man, just unlock the back door I'm coming through for the yaya, I'm coming
