

Breakaway

Lennon Stella

I apologise my emotions are higher
Hard to explain when you feel your world's on fire
Close my eyes to all the things that hurt my nature
I apologise but I am (ise but I am, ise but I am) I'm tired of holding my head up
I'm tired of tryin' to hold on to you
This cycle, fighting and makin' up
I'm tired of tryin' to hold on Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it
I'll break break away
Break break away
I'll break break away
Break break away
I'll break
The ground and the ceiling seem to be disappearing
Nothing to stand on, oh god I hate this feeling
You put the weight of your world down on my shoulders
Why'd you have to make me older?
Make me older?
Make me older? I'm tired of holdin' my head up
I'm tired of tryin' to hold on to you
This cycle, fighting and makin' up
I'm tired of tryin' to hold on Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it
Break break away
I'll break break away
Break break away
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it

Break break away
I'll break break away
Break break away
