

Tip The Domino

John Popper

Let 'are rip baby
You go Gugu

One two, one two three four

Sold our gold and we sold our hands
We find our minds and we lose it again
We fawn on love and we fall on thighs
A little laid back it's of little surprise
To watch the whole world end on the video, no
It doesn't matter if you miss the show
Because it'll repeat in intervals of 63 seconds
Calling deep space for images in multiplication
How we spend our whole lives in anticipation of extinction and total annihilation

It starts out so small
Now you see it now you don't
See how perfectly we fall
Catch a tiger by the toe
Look out kids you'll tip the domino

See the love, the light it all does shine
Forty five and five folds in time
Moon phases heal but not for long
Save yourself before we're far too gone from this brave new world of syndication

It's sooner later than you'll know
It starts out so small
Now you see it now you don't
See how perfectly we fall
Catch a tiger by the toe
Look out kids you'll tip the domino
You've been expecting but never taught
As rings of fire burn around you
You're mixing right from wrong ingredients
But instant Karma's not gonna change you
Keep a watchful eye on your saviours
Who are actually your demons dressed in drag
Look out kids you'll tip the domino

Because it'll repeat in intervals of 63 seconds
Calling deep space for images and multiplication

It starts out so small
Now you see it now you don't
See how perfectly we fall
Catch a tiger by the toe
Look out kids you'll tip the domino
