

World At Our Feet

Timmy Trumpet

We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go
With our minds wide open, we can see
We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go
With our minds wide open, we can see
I called them out, from underneath
All dressed in red and fires
All that they could breath
All i ask of you is your salvation
Want you follow me to my imagination?
We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go
With our minds wide open, we can see
We can see
We've got the world
The world at our feet
Sweet mania, break your step and come
Into this battleground
We are, we are the only ones
Cos' underneath the dust is our salvation
Want you follow me to my imagination?
We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go
With our minds wide open, we can see
We can see
We've got the world
The world at our feet
We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go
With our minds wide open, we can see
Don't never bring us to our knees, no
We're holding on to our belief
We can rise with the morning up against an ocean
Send out a warning that we are free
Cos we are the broken never letting go

With our minds wide open, we can see
