

Plant the Beginning

Adam Tell

[Verse 1] Looking down at the order of the tiles One misplacement is dismissed as a corruption in the file
Inside out are the imprints on our eyes Small distortions in yourself can be hard to recognize [Pre-Chorus] Any closer to your chest
You won't live to see what's next Standing still, runnnng out of breath Something's hiding in your voice Reconsidering your choice Now's the time to change your mind [Chorus] The man you know you can be is projecting through a smokescreen
If they don't capture the light you give It's time to change who you're with Sow the seeds and watch them grow
Send out the call and see who shows Open the window, and plant the beginning [Verse 2] Looking back at the shadow chasing me I try to send him on his way, but I'm stepping on his feet
How to let go is the hardest thing you'll learn Don't be afraid to pave the road if you think you missed your turn [Pre-Chorus] Any closer to your chest
You won't live to see what's next Standing still, runnnng out of breath Something's hiding in your voice
Reconsidering your choice
Now's the time to change your mind Change it [Chorus] The man
you know you can be is projecting through a smokescreen If they don't capture the light you give
It's time to change who you're with Sow the seeds and watch them grow
Send out the call and see who shows Open the window, and plant the beginning Yeah [Bridge] The preservation of my youth
It's the final mission, it's the last pursuit It's critical that you keep your heart in shape
So you can bleed now and then to clean your slate [Outro] The man you know you can be is projecting through a smokescreen
If they don't capture the light you give It's time to change who you're with Sow the seeds and watch them grow
Send out the call and see who shows
Open the window
