

When You Think of Me

Eric Benét

(feat. Roy Ayers)

Hello baby how ya' been,
nice to see your face again
Strange to see you coming 'round, when you're the one who put me down
We were such a happy pair, but then another man was there
So forgive me I don't understand, just what you want from me

As you can see my life's been good
I moved the family out the neighborhood
And all my dreams I've realized, to think you said it was a waste of time
It's never hard to make new friends, when you're making Benjamins
Now did I hear you say again. . .
You're still thinking of me?

[Chorus:]

Do you feel like dying, do you break down crying
Do you fall down on your knees
Don't want to go on living, does your world start spinning
When you think of me

All I had was love to bring
But you was on some ol' material thing
Looks like you're still trying to drive them mad
But it's not easy when your credit's bad
I didn't know that I could feel so blue
It took some time but girl I'm over you
Would've gladly gave my life for you
You should have thought the whole thing through

All those nights with your girlfriends
Was just a front for you and him
Y'all was s'posed to leave for Honolulu
Leaving yo' ass was 'bout the best he could do
Dry your tears now baby it's O.K.
I'll introduce you to my fiancée
Now tell me baby say again. . .

You been thinking of me?

[Chorus]

[Bridge:]

Do you think of me in waves that pull you under
From my memory is there nowhere you can hide
Do you close your eyes, see my face and wonder
How could a love so strong be nothing but a lie

[Chorus]
