Me, Myself & Hyde

ICE NINE KILLS

i tear apart the pages of the story of my life in black and white the wrong and right will struggle to surviveand i've been falling apart in the pouring rain i'm waging war on myself a captive casualty
traded a merciful heart for a murderer's brain but now i curse what's in my head because i can't stop seeing reddid you really think i would falter my friend? i've destroyed you before i'll destroy you againi'm the hell that is your future i'll incinerate your past i'm the devil on your shoulder but i'll always be your better half we might share one body but this spine is fucking mine by now you should know you're just a spectator, i'm the show is this the end of me?'cause i've been falling apart in the pouring rain
because i can't stop seeing reddid you really think you could hyde from me doctor? have you not seen the legacy i've carved into the flesh of this city? even van gogh would call it a bloody good impression an artist of infection and your just another piece in my collectiona mirror image of perfection who's time has fucking come
'cause i've been falling apart in the pouring rain
but now i curse what's in my head because i can't stop seeing redfriends and fellow countrymen lend me your ears the following revelation's for you skeptics to hear there exists no good only unrealized evil i'll bring hope to the sinners and death to the peoplei tear apart the pages of the story of my life
'cause i've been falling apart in the pouring rain

because i can't stop seeing red i'm seeing red the doctor is dead
i bid thee farewell fuck my fate
just save a seat for me in hell
