

Hell's Kitchen Angel

MAX

[Verse 1]

I should've known in the subway station
That you were on your way to 44th and 8th
With your roller blades on the A train
Oh, you're so complicated
I was born and raised in the city
But I've never seen one so pretty

[Pre-Chorus 1]

Ooh, she said she's into older guys
But ooh, maybe I can change her mind
And ooh, what the hell, it's Friday
Just saying, I want you
I said

[Chorus]

Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You broke the devil's poor heart
With the way that you're loving me
Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You're a little too much for most, but you're still right for me, yeah

[Verse 2]

We took a tipsy cab to Coney Island
It was closed at 8 so we jumped the gate
Rode the Cyclone 'til the morning come
More shots down in Chinatown
Get fake IDs, we're fine and free
On a trapeze through the main streets

[Pre-Chorus 2]

You make water gasoline
And ooh, I'm feeling thirsty
And ooh, what the hell, give me a light
Just saying, I want you
I said

[Chorus]

Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You broke the devil's poor heart
With the way that you're loving me

Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You're a little too much for most, but you're still right for me, yeah

[Bridge]

Baby, you can go to Heaven if you be real nice
We can go to Hell, spend the night
Ah ooh, oh, ah ah ow, let me say it again
Baby, you can go to Heaven if you be real nice
We can go to Hell, spend the night
Ah ooh, oh, ah ah aw, let me say it again

Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You're a little too much for most
But just right for me, yeah
I said

[Chorus]

Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
Broke the devil's poor heart
With the way that you're loving me
Hell's kitchen angel
Red hot and dangerous
You're a little too much for most, but you're still right
You're right for me, yeah

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>