

Thru It All

Charlie Wilson

Not one to have a loss for words
What I have to say you've already heard
But I don't think it will hurt to hear it again Years have passed and your kisses feel Even better now, soothing my heart still
How my passion fills just knowing
That you're on your way home again We've been through it all a lot of nights, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat in so many ways
Only you I call until this day, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat, let me count the ways Nothing's perfect we still have our days
But that doesn't mean our love will stray
If anything it takes me right back to you
Oh no
Wishes answered from the very start
Before 'Hello' you have left your mark
One so deep I could not remove
Even if I wanted to We've been through it all a lot of nights, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat in so many ways
Only you I call until this day, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat, let me count the ways From your warm embrace to how your kisses taste
The way you look at me, with such sincerity
I feel like every man should feel
I pinch myself to see if it's real The letters you wrote, even the simple notes
Just you took your time to say what's on your mind
I really couldn't ask for more, oh yeah
We've been through it all a lot of nights, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat in so many ways
Only you I call until this day, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat, let me count the ways We've been through it all a lot of nights, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat in so many ways
Only you I call until this day, girl
You make my heart just skip a beat, let me count the ways
