When Someone Stops Loving You

Little Big Town

Still gotta walk into a crowded room
With a radio on
Crack a smile and crack beer like it don't bother you
Like it ain't you're song that's on
Still gotta cross the bridge to get to work
The one by her place
Make it through the 9 to 5 like it don't hurt
It goes that wayWhen someone stops loving you
It don't make the evening news
It don't keep the sun from rising
The clock from winding
Your heart from beating
Even when you want it to
When someone stops loving you
Still gotta button up your collared shirt
The one she used to button down
Sleep on the mattress where her body left a curve
Or maybe just the couch
Still gotta keep her number in your phone
In case she calls back one night when she's drunk and all alone
Yeah, your praying for thatWhen someone stops loving you
It don't make the evening news
It don't keep the sun from rising
The clock from winding
Your heart from beating
Even when you want it to
When someone stops loving youThe hardest part about it is there ain't a switch that you can flip
Cause you can't stop loving them
When someone stops loving you
When someone stops loving youIt don't keep the sun from rising
The clock from winding
Your heart from beating
Even when you want it to
When someone stops loving youWhen someone stops loving you
When someone stops loving you
