

Vanity

Yuki Kajiura

Enter the scenery of love Lovers are in pain
They blame and pick on each other You play melodies of love forgotten phrases tender and weetCome a little bit closer don't stay in the shadows my boy the melody's fading... now or never, love will go I'll be there by your side share your fears in the silent redemption touch my lips, hold me tight live in vanity for a whileAs winter melts in the sun boys will be out running and reaching for the light oh mother please find me in the place before the memories tear us into piecesclinging to affection, we somehow do learn to live in endless motion never coming back, love will go you'll be there by me side you may never know my devotion feel my breath in the quiet night live in vanity for everwon't you feel my gentle emotion let us live in peace with convection if your here please hold me...
