

Your Time (feat. KAYTRANADA)

Nick Murphy

You don't know your time is something that I need to have
Breaking all the rules because I've got to have you bad
Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh, your time

You don't know your time is something that I need to have
I'm breaking all the rules because I've got to have you bad
And you became the reason for the season in my life
And you fucked up my thinking, now I'm thinking more than twice
'cause

The clock keeps ticking, the soul keeps kicking
I wonder what you're thinking from across the room
The blood keeps pumping, keep on jumping
So could this be the moment that I tell you
You the only reason that i made it here tonight
This could be the only place I take you on this ride
Would you see me looking? I'm the heartbeat cooking
I'm the secret to this recipe

You don't know your time is something that I need to have
I'm breaking all the rules because I've got to have you bad
And you became the reason for the season in my life
And you fucked up my thinking, now I'm thinking more than twice
'cause

Now I'll be right with it, my head won't quit it
Said I'll predict the future and it's very clear
The girl's got rhythm, her legs move with them
Could you listen, they will tell you something very clear
You're the only reason i made it here tonight
This could be the only time I've got with you, alright
Would you see me looking? I'm the heartbeat cooking
I'm the secret to this recipe

You don't know your time is something that I need to have
I'm breaking all the rules because I've got to have you bad
And you became the reason for the season in my life
And you fucked up my thinking, now I'm thinking more than twice
'cause

Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh, your time
Oh, oh, oh

You don't know your time is something that I need to have

Breaking all the rules because I've got to have you bad
