

Damn I Need a Dirt Road (feat. Jon Langston)

Muscadine Bloodline

You don't sleep if the city don't sleep
Yeah, ain't that the truth
When it rains, yeah you don't hear a thing
On a concrete roof These downtown lights
Don't light the night
Like them high beams do
Them busy streets won't do Damn, I need a dirt road
Somewhere way outta town
Get some red clay slinging around
Damn, I need a one lane track
With the windshield cracked
With the spare change rattling sound
Damn, I need a good song, watching the sunset
Taking me out where nobody knows
Damn I need a dirt road
Wish there was one round here
That I knew like the back of my hand
The boulevard won't take me
As far as a county ride can These people think I'm crazy
But they just don't understand
[?] Damn, I need a dirt road
Somewhere way outta town
Get some red clay slinging around
Damn, I need a one lane track
With the windshield cracked
With the spare change rattling sound
Damn, I need a good song, watching the sunset
Taking me out where nobody knows
Damn I need a dirt road
I grab the case and get away
I'm flying down the interstate
I'm heading towards my sacred place Damn, I need a dirt road
Somewhere way outta town
Get some red clay slinging around
Damn, I need a one lane track
With the windshield cracked
With every single window down Damn, I need a dirt road
Somewhere way outta town
Get some red clay slinging around
Damn, I need a one lane track
With the windshield cracked
With the spare change rattling sound

Damn, I need a good song, watching the sunset
Taking me out where nobody knows
Damn I need a dirt road
Damn I need a dirt road
Damn I need a dirt road
Oh, oh You don't sleep if the city don't sleep
Yeah, ain't that the truth
