Sands

Dawn Richard

Pictures on the wall remind me of all the old shit that we were Pictures on the wall remind me of all the shit that we lost
It ain't right, but that's life
Little did we know, when we were young
We were dumb, we were too young
We were youngWe didn't know that everything would come falling down
We didn't know that everything would come crashing down
We were young
I shouldn't a' told them that I was fine when I was falling down
I didn't understand why the lie was a more important sound
I didn't wanna go back to things that had me feeling low
So, I guess I gotta run away from the labels
Here we go, here we go again
We're too young to understand
We're too young to understand
Here we go, here we go again
We're too young to understand
We're too young to understand
Hey now, now, now, hey now, hey now
We're too young to understand
Love don't live in these places with dark sand
We're too young
We're too young to understand
Hey now, so they keep saying
Hey now, hey, hey now, and (We're too young)
You too young to understand (We're too young)
Life is like quicksand (We're too young)
You can fall if you're not looking (We're too young)
Life is like glue (We're too young)
Young girl, you do understand (We're too young)
Life is like quicksand (We're too young)
Hey now, hey now, young girl (We're too young)
Hey now, young girl
