

The Other Side

Woods

Lay down, lay it down in song
There will always be a place for you
Meet me on the other side Stay down, feel the wind between your bones
I will always have a space for you
Meet me on the other side What would you say when you've lost your time
Turn a teardrop, paint the night
Over and done, once again
Over and gone
Feeling backwards we bend inside
Hit the sidewalk with perfect stride
Over and done, once again
Over and gone Way down, feel the weight from head to toe
There will always be a place for you
Meet me on the other side Stay down, feel the wind between your bones
I will always have a space for you
Meet me on the other side What would you say to tomorrow's sky
I dream of sunsets most every night
Over and done, once again
Over and gone
Feeling backwards we bend inside
Hit the sidewalk with perfect stride
Over and done, once again
Over and gone
