

Destiny (feat. Goapele)

Cassper Nyovest

Love will take you higher babe
Love will take you higher You are and you are and will be
The sould and the air that I breath
My heart and the love that i need
And you are my destiny Look I know you've heard a lot of things about me
I mean most of it is true, I'm an asshole
I've hurt women I'm kinda rude
But i ain't that broke and I got issues but I've improved really had hope
My big heart was bulletproof
I was under the impression that people just engineer love
But lately these are thoughts that I steer from I lived a couple years without a teardrop
I don't wanna die for love like Reeva Steenkamp I keep it safe
But you make me wanna risk it all
And I get a little sad when you miss my calls
And that's childish I never act like this at all
I can't be catching feelings when there's so much other shit involved Like how my niggas would react if I wifed you, you think my fans won't accept you so I hide you
You hate that I have to lie to people say I like you when I know that it's deeper than that
And this is my truth I love what's inside you way more than your pretty face
I don't usually go on dinner dates, I prefer to stay at home but you got me doing different things and I'm really loving this exchange
I just need you to be patient, I'm getting done working
And all my trust issues and my pride cos' you're worth it
I'm learnin about commitment and turning down all the curses
I know buying you gifts don't make me a better person You are and you are and will be
The sould and the air that I breath
My heart and the love that i need
And you are my destiny
Look I've also heard a lot of things about you and I know half of it is true
Don't you try and make innocent like you ain't done some wicked shit
But I'm still here treating you like I'm your first, pretending that loving you can never hurt
Like I ain't bother when you party with my enemies
But honestly I'm not as strong as I pretend to be you know how niggas be
We like acting all tough when we know that deep down the shit's affecting me
Looking for cupid 'cause I think I got shot with an arrow Life is risky so we choose to be safe and we settle 'cause every secret that I tell you can turn into ammo
Loyalty is rares and they can Cassper collabo
It's crazy 'cause we were done before I finished this I knew I never should have trusted that you're innocent 'cause now you out here leaving me for a businessman

How am I suppose to believe that you was genuine?
I mean does he open the door for you like I do?
Do you think that he will risk it all for you like I do?
Will he get on his fucken knees and change your title?
In simple terms do you think that he will wife you?
And maybe this is coming from my wrongs, I know I broke a lot of women's hearts before I really thought that we will prove my niggas wrong but they not so we love and we learn I used to think You are and you are and will be
The sould and the air that I breath
My heart and the love that i need
And you are my destiny I can feel it I can feel the magic Tell me if you can imagine
Don't you dare resist the power
Love will take you higher baby You are and you are and will be
The sould and the air that I breath
My heart and the love that i need
And you are my destiny Love will take you higher babe
Love will take you higher
