

A Place Only You Can Go

NEEDTOBREATHE

Pain is alive in a broken heart
The past never does go away
We were born to love and we're born to pay
The price for our mistakes Grace, she comes with a heavy load
Memories, they can't be erased
Like a pill I swallow that makes me well
But leaves an awful taste Oh I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
In my heart you'll always know
There is a place only love can go
There is a place only you can go
Take my notions and words to heart
This is the cry of a man
I can't bring you fortune or noble life
But I'll love you all I can Oh I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
But in my heart you'll always know
There is a place only you can go
Oh I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
In my heart you'll always know
There is a place only love can go
There is a place only you can go
