

Looking For Love

The Chain Gang of 1974

These days it seems I'm failing just to stand
I slip and sway to the movement of her glass
These night calls seem to resemble younger days of shame
And blurred lines only to prove my desperate gaze
She said "No"
Why am I looking for love in the wrong place?
She said "Go home"
Why am I looking for love in the wrong way?
The weight of aging has brought me to my knees
With dry lips I fear that it reflects in me
She said
How will you come to admit
You've drifted alone?
Will I ever see you again?
She said "No"
Why am i looking for love in the wrong place?
She said "Go home"
Why am i looking for love in the wrong way?
She said
How will i come to admit
You've drifted alone?
Will I ever see you again?
She said "No"
Why am I looking for love in the wrong place?
She said "Go home"
Why am I looking for love in the wrong way?
(Looking for love, I'm always looking for love)
Why am I looking for love in the wrong place?
(Looking for love, I'm always looking for love)
Why am I looking for love in the wrong way?
