

If You Were Here

Cary Brothers

If you were here
I could deceive you
And if you were here
You would believeBut would you suspect
My emotion wandering, yeah?
Do not want a part of this anymoreThe rain water drips
Through the cracks in the ceiling
And I'll have to spend
My time on repair
And just like the rain
I'll be always fallin', yeah
Only to rise and fall again
If you were here
I could deceive you
And if you were here
You would believeBut would you suspect
My emotion wandering, yeah?
Do not want a part of this anymore
If you were here
I could deceive you
And if you were here
You would believeBut just like the rain
I'll be always fallin', yeah
