

Outrun

Adam Tell

[Verse 1]

Crack the code and cut the wire
Build a bridge and start the fire
You say you're home but you're a liar
Pack it up, it's time to leave
Nothing here but disbelief
A heart that turned into a machine

[Chorus]

Hold back how you wanna react
Keep it from front lines in the back of your mind
You've been trying to outrun what you wanna become
It's all gonna catch up, catch up
You crowd it, doubt it
Give it a room where it can change clothes, but you know
You'd rather die before you outrun what you were born to become
You might let it catch up, catch up

[Verse 2]

Ring it out and let it dry
Wait and see what's left alive
But be prepared to be surprised
Did you forget the way you came?
Did your regret give you a name?
This where you change the game

[Chorus]

Hold back how you wanna react
Keep it from front lines in the back of your mind
You've been trying to outrun what you wanna become
It's all gonna catch up, catch up
You crowd it, doubt it
Give it a room where it can change clothes, but you know
You'd rather die before you outrun what you were born to become
You might let it catch up, catch up

[Verse 3]

Close your lips and try to speak
All the words you couldn't breathe
Close your eyes and you will see

Face ahead and take it in
A lifetime of medicine
Isn't out of the question

[Verse 4]

When you feel you've lost it all
When there's nowhere left to fall
It's time to rise above it all
Feel the rush in laying down
See their faces turn around
As your feet leave the ground

[Pre-Chorus]

Hold back how you wanna react
Keep it from front lines in the back of your mind
You've been trying to outrun what you wanna become
You've been trying to outrun what you wanna become You've been trying to

[Chorus]

Hold back how you wanna react
Keep it from front lines in the back of your mind
You've been trying to outrun what you wanna become
It's all gonna catch up, catch up
You crowd it, doubt it
Give it a room where it can change clothes, but you know
You'd rather die before you outrun what you were born to become
You might let it catch up, catch up
It's time to let it catch up, catch up
