

Almost Broken (feat. Jillian Jacqueline)

Sister Hazel

Why do you want to do this Do you always win?
I'm not saying that its over, but you got me questioning if you keep chipping away baby knocking pieces off my pride there will be nothing left to say Well, I'm almost broken Barely keep this love alive going through the motions running out of things to try don't want to surrender
don't want goodbye
but I'm missing that light in your eye I'm not done hoping baby I'm almost broken Sometimes I get the feeling it's not me your fighting with some whisper from your past and I here paying for his sins I'm not strong enough to save us both I can't do this on my own Only so long I'll hold on And, I'm almost broken Barely keep this love alive
running out of things to try
don't want goodbye
but I'm missing that light in your eye I'm not done hoping
baby I'm almost broken
If only your kiss can heal me Show me it isn't too late cause baby you don't have to convince me to stay don't want to surrender
don't want goodbye
Without you this ain't much of a life I'm not done hoping
baby I'm almost broken
