

Something About You (Mason Maynard Remix)

Elderbrook & Rudimental

I miss the touch of morning sun
Making silhouettes of us
Way back when we had our paradise But staying out all through the night
Smoking, drinking, getting high
I was wrong and I apologize Where did you go?
What can I do?
I'm working on my problems
But I need you here to solve them
Where did you go?
What should I say?
I know that I can make a change 'cause
There's something about you
Keeping me sober
I was drowning in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something about you
Keeping me sober
I was drowning in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low I miss the company we had Back when I was still on track
Now I'm making my own paradise
But now the drink is tasting strange
And the high isn't the same
Well I'm still wrong and I apologize
Where did you go?
What can I do?
I'm working on my problems
But I need you here to solve them
Where did you go?
What should I say?
I know that I can make a change 'cause There's something about you
Keeping me sober
I was drowning in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something about you
Keeping me sober

I was drowning in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low
There's something about you
Keeping me sober
I was drowning in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
Ohh Oh (Oh)
Holding onto you
Holding onto you
Holding onto you
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low
(Yeah I've been falling)
There's something about you
That keeps picking me up when I'm low
(Yeah I've been falling)
There's something about you

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>