Monty Python

Good Morning
Morning, sir
Welcome to the National Cheese Emporium
Ah, thank you, my good man
What can I do for you, sir? Well, I was sitting in the public library
On Thurmon Street just now
Skimming through Rogue Herry's by Hugh Walpole
And I suddenly came over all peckish Peckish, sir?
Esuriant
Eh
'Ee, ah wor 'ungry-loike
Ah, hungry
In a nutshell, and I thought
To myself, A little fermented curd will do the trick
So I curtailed my Walpoling activities
Sallied forth and infiltrated your place
Of purveyance to negotiate the vending
Of some cheesy comestibles Come again
I want to buy some cheese
Oh, I thought you were complaining
About the bazouki player
Oh, heaven forbid, I am one who delights
In all manifestations of the Terpsichorean muse Sorry?
'Ooo, ah lahk a nice tune, 'yer forced too
So he can go on playing, can he
Most certainly, now then
Some cheese please, my good man
Certainly, sir, what would you like?
Well, eh, how about a little red Leicester?
I'm afraid we're fresh out of red Leicester, sir
Oh, never mind, how are you on Tilsit? I'm afraid we never have that at the end of the week
Sir, we get it fresh on Monday

He asked expecting the answer 'No'

Yes, sir

No, not really, sirYou haven't?
No, sir, not a scrap

What a senseless waste of human life
