

Open Season

Josef Salvat

We used to have it all planned,
We thought we knew what it all looked like
We were looking out on the greatest viewWe were raised to take a stand
We were raised to keep a open mind
We believe we'd just sail out throughDown a hundred miles a hour
Sitting in my palace without any power
Alone in the dark, we're alone in the dark
Thought we could always try a bit harder
But if the dice don't wanna roll in your favor
It falls apart, the fantasy falls apart
This is open season
Time is up, time to be leaving
Get on down the very arbitrary road
Amor up, and say your prayers from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you're better on off your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt aloneSo I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
All the faces were forgotten
All the tracks we've given up
Only sorry for a moment, no it was nowhere near enough
But I take as it comes, I take it as I only can
I take it all, and run where it goesCause this is open season
Time is up, time to be leaving
Get on down the very arbitrary road
Amor up, and say your prayers from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you're better on off your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt aloneSo I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game togetherSo I'll be needing you
We're only at the startSo I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too

We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game togetherSo I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game togetherSo I'll be needing you
