

Welcome Back

Input

[First Verse]

Welcome back to the only thing that ever made your heart race
Similar to running from the cops or a first date
It took time for music to find it's right path
Blinded by oppression now it's made the choice to fight back
Living by the corporate code of corruption
It takes one to teach one the layout of seduction
Prosecute the perpetual predicaments
Punishing the listener by handing out permission slips
We've lost touch with the importance of feeling
We've lost contact with all keen sense of hearing
It's up to music to alter it's appearance
And re-invent itself instead of shopping for a clearance
Go ahead and try to simplify the problem
And you'll probbaly find yourself in a (??) with an empty wallet
Giving the state of the modern individual
That doesn't mean a thing if you don't understand this ritual
Music is an open airway to ecstasy
Let's play with fortune and fame along with destiny
At the end of the tunnel there is a bold path
That we'll explore so music will get it's soul back

[Hook]

Welcome back to the time and the place
Where you first fell in love with the things you embrace
Welcome back to the days of enchantment
Attraction, delight and a fascinating passion
Welcome back to the pro's and the con's
The albums, the fashion, the friendships, the songs
It's nice to meet you relax and just sit tight
This is the feeling that'll make you wanna live life

[Second Verse]

Welcome back to your single inhibition
Of letting everything go and striking the ignition
I'm moving forward on a tedious adventure
A meaningful selection of your favorites and the best hits
Become one with your arrested development
Change for the better cause the rest is irrelevant
Remember how it felt to live spontaneous

Inside yourself and outside of the radius
Marvel at the magnificence of your first love
Your first kiss, your first time, your first crush
Does it not wanna make you travel back to that moment in your life?
Your life just felt right
Turn on the radio and get the manual
So the music and you become compatible
And when it's over you'll know just what to do
Welcome back to the best thing that happened to me and now to you

[Hook]

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>