[Forrest:]

Home is wherever you are
Home is wherever you are
And I don't ever have to go far
Because home is wherever you are

If I said I love you, then I could never love you not
And if I said I want you, then I could never want you not
And if I said forever, do you think that would be alright?
Cause if I say I love you, then I could never love you not
