

Violets (feat. Phonte)

Miles Davis & Robert Glasper something so wonderful and (ya) new 2-2-2-2-2-2-2-1-2

1-2

Tigalo, tigalo, tigalo, tigalo

Yo

Blues and greens and violets eyes get

heavy with the weight og the world around the iris

its like something insane its like a virus

its like a hybrid of all your joys and your pains that you bring to the table periodically

and memorize 'em lik a scientist for you to make it dawg ya gonna need allainces a blessing and a prayer from the whole world

Arch diocese, trigger

Lets put it to rest cuz im so in need of one i only hear about it and i never really seen it done everybody asking when im coming out so when i run a route

i take the scenic one

To get away from all that ails me i return to the place that never fails me the heus spread the news giving color to your frailties

the blues and the greens and all thats in between and this is how i mean

one time

Something so wonderful and new

a million colors just for you

it shines in everything you do

like violets

Yo blue and greens and violets

heavy with the weight of the world

So much that i be appalled to see 'em close your eyes envision the cause for freedom but when they open its a struggle to carpe diem cuz the streets is littered with the niggas from mausoleums Giving up is the last option so when i spit my last doctrine i make the audience clap foe my offensive lines like they pass blocking i really wanna chill but i aint that yet dont want to live in excess Think i need her tonight like inxs
"Nigga dont you send that!" (NO!) take time to introspect so you can keep going to get those checks and giving praises cuz never before have you been so blessed when the trouble of the world starts to ail me
the hues spread the news
Like that. Ride it out. Hey.
and this is how i meen
