

My Oh My

Tristan Prettyman

You got my heart on a string
You want me back again and you know I'll do anything
Just when I thought I was free
Knock, knock, the door is locked
But you still got a key All too familiar, the moment it shows up
Now everything I know seems to fly My oh my
You're getting under my skin
Don't know why I'm always letting you in
Just when I got my life together again,
Here you are standing there
Tell me why I should try-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
You got me under a spell
You look like heaven, oh, but you put me through hell
God knows there's nothing to gain
Well who am I to deny, we're both playing the same game
All too familiar, the moment it blows up
Now everything I know seems to fly My oh my
You're getting under my skin
Don't know why I'm always letting you in
Just when I got my life together again,
Here you are standing there
Tell me why I should try-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
And I know that you're no good for me
And it makes no sense at all
Still I keep coming back for more
'Cause I'm addicted to your call I know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me
The way you kept coming back for me
Like the last breath left of the air I need I know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me
The way you kept coming back for me
Like the last breath left of the air I need My oh my
You're getting under my skin
Don't know why I'm always letting you in

Just when I got my life together again,
Here you are standing there
Tell me why I should try-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-yMy oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-y
My oh my-y-yMy oh my
I know you ain't no good for me
And all the lies and the lines you fed to me

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>