

One More Girl

The Wreckers

[Verse 1]

I took off my iron smile, babe
Cause i felt it weighed me down tomorrow
When the world wakes up, I'll be in another town
You don't know what you want at this moment, could be me
You move your hand across from me, turn me into some novelty

[Chorus]

I guess I'm one more girl on the stage
Just one more ass that got stuffed in some jeans
It's one more day that you don't find true love
Because you don't know what it means, yeah

[Verse 2]

Did you ever take the time to think about who I might be?
Where i've been, what i'm thinkin, who i love, what i've seen
Yeah yeah yeah yeah yeah yeah, oh

[Bridge]

One more crowd on the road
There you might pass on your way home
Someone sister, someones wife or just some bitch who's probably got no life

[Chorus]

Some old girl on the stage
Just one more ass that got stuffed in some jeans
And it's one more day that you don't find true love
Because you don't know what it means, yeah

[Bridge]

One day we'll be a pile of ashes
For the rest of time it passes
So take your hand off my knee
Do you know what it means to be?

[Chorus]

One more girl on the stage
Just one more ass that got stuffed in some jeans
And it's one more day that you don't find true love
Because you don't know what it means

Yeah yeah yeah yeah
