

In My Sleep (feat. Tito Lopez & Chelsea Blare)

Jon Connor

They give a real talk of the year award? Okay, so y'all wanna know what it's like for niggas rhyming?

All they love is gone

But they force you to find a silver lining

And the playbook empty

Done ran through every possible option

So blue collar man, they think I'm cripin' Mississippi's Compton

What the check ain't went through?

How about the bread I lent you?

Got a few views on Youtube

Guess I ain't got to pay rent too, huh?

Ever think you meant to do that one thing that you love to do?

So you take a chance, take the stage and the ground move up under you

And you drop

And you keep falling, keep falling feel like it's never gonna stop

And it's ironic

Cause you in this bottomless pit 'til you get to the top

And the cold sweats

Waking up still in the projects, no progress

This a dream or a nightmare?

I don't know yet

Then I get that call from my lil bro he tells me I'm his hero

Just when I thought my life was screwed up like Texas no zero

Got a second wind and picked up the pieces

I'm a different species

Me and Connor: death before dishonor

Holla at me man I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to God

They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long

I lock myself up in my room at night

Hope He hear me crying in my room at night

I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to God

They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long

I lock myself up in my room at night

Pray He hear me crying in my room at night Ain't nobody gonna give you props

'til the world jump on your nuts

It's just that simple

By then you won't give a fuck

All the nights you was by yourself

Couldn't get nobody to pick up the phone

All the days you wanted to reach out

Ain't nobody have arms that long

Had a dream I was back on the playground

And I ain't have a care in the world
Haters won't let me breathe
Like it ain't enough air in the world
All the nights I spent on this writing shit
It ain't fair my girl
She ain't wanna let go, but I had to let go
If I couldn't be there for my girl
I ain't never by myself
Always get beside myself
I really don't give a fuck
But I guess I never really apply myself
It's just easier that way
Cause people come and people go
Only thing constant is change
Everything you see gonna go
I don't want you to feel my pain
Feeling yours is hard enough
Find a reason to smile
Yeah I know the shit hard as fuck
Reminisce on the things you love
Give thanks for the things you have
Take a deep breath, look at where you at
Follow my voice, let me bring you back
Let me bring you back
I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to God
They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long
I lock myself up in my room at night
Hope He hear me crying in my room at night I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to
God
They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long
I lock myself up in my room at night
Pray He hear me crying in my room at night It goes down easy
It goes down easy
It goes down easy
I'm running I'm running I've been gone too long
I'm running I'm running I've been gone too long It goes down easy
And you can hear me crying It was days I couldn't come outside
All those nights when I was on my own
Lord knows it ain't easy actually
So I'm running
I'm running I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to God
They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long
I lock myself up in my room at night
Hope He hear me crying in my room at night I lock myself up in my room at night and pray to
God
They told me one day shit gonna change but I felt this way for so long
I lock myself up in my room at night
Pray He hear me crying in my room at night

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>