

Fade

Sister Hazel

You pushed me to the side
Held tight to your own backslide
You said it's just too hard for you to explain
The weight that breaks the back of those who just can't change
I watched you spin yourself around this town
I'm not going to be the one who weights you back down to the ground
Just to see you smile back at me Where did you go to?
I couldn't see through
All the things I let get in the way
Into the last phase
Bend it til it breaks
I stand and watch you fade
Fade
I just ignore your concerns
I pushed you into this, now the tables are burned
Should we go to where you decided you would change?
I don't want to be the one who's there to complain when you're down
Just to see you smile back at me Where did you go to?
I couldn't see through
All the things I let get in the way
Into the last phase
Bend it til it breaks
I stand and watch you fade Where did you go to?
I couldn't see through
All the things I let get in the way
Oh, into the last phase
Bend it til it breaks
I stand and watch you fade
I couldn't see through
The questions you ask her
Invite disaster
I stand and watch you fade
Fade
