Illuminati (feat. Excision & Downlink)

Korn

I can't believe what's happening Where is your self control Why can't you just be honest The corruption takes its toll You rape our hope Too proud to cope You built this house of shame You smile, you gloat This disease you promote An infection is what we are now I can't believe this happened The fear starts to grab hold Then anger starts to take over I will not be controlled You rape our hope Too proud to cope You built this house of shame You smile, you gloat This disease you promote An infection is what we are now They're taking over now Eating up our souls somehow Taking over now Parasites, they run around The culprits won't be found They lie behind this mask of wealth They're taking over now Illuminati they hide You rape our hope Too proud to cope You built this house of shame You smile, you gloat This disease you promote An infection is what we are now You rape our hope Too proud to cope You built this house of shame You smile, you gloat This disease you promote An infection is what we are now
