

Cheatin'

Sara Evans

You say your every day is a bad dream that keeps repeatin'
Maybe you should have thought about that when you were cheatin' How do you like that furnished room, the bed, the chair, the table
The TV picture comes and goes, too bad you don't have cable
How do you like that paper plate and those pork-n-beans you're eatin'
Maybe you should have thought about that when you were cheatin' How do you like that beat-up car, I think it's fair we traded
Your pick-up truck is running fine, it's a cozy ride for datin'
Yes, I've been out a time or two and found the comfort I've been needin'
Maybe you should have thought about that when you were cheatin' You made your bed and you're out of mine
You lie awake and I sleep just fine
You've done your sowin', now you can do the reapin'
Maybe you should have thought about that when you were cheatin'
Now, what became of what's-her-name after she spent all your money
Did she leave you just like you left me, well sometimes life is funny
Yes, I'll be glad to take you back, just as soon as I stop breathin'
Maybe you should have thought about that
Oh, maybe you should have thought about that
Maybe you should have thought about that when you were cheatin'
When you were cheatin'

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>