

Travelling Light (feat. Anita Kelsey)

Markus Schulz

You're speaking
A different language to me
Your world is far away
I can't ever live there I'm looking into your eyes Trying to find A common place to start Don't fire that gun yet.

I was turning the page before you could read the signs were all around But missing them is easier
I admit that I'm the stranger here the story of our past the one that never got started.

We never got started so I'm traveling light
oh yeah
I'm traveling light

we never got started

so I'm traveling light

traveling light.
