

Shadow

Tens Upon Thousands

(The first verse) :

Fallen into introversion
Again, lost in my emotions
I'm losing any sense of empathy
For this world I built for myself

(Chorus) :

Take me
Broken and sombre
And face me
Stare into the eyes of a shadow
This unforgiving world that I've built for myself

(The second verse) :

Clarity, do you even listen to the words I say ?
Take a single moment to appreciate
Your lies will never match the will of honesty
Honesty !

(Chorus) :

Take me?
Broken and sombre
And face me?
Stare into the eyes of a shadow
This unforgiving world that I've built for myself

(Bridge) :

Myself, broken and sombre
Take away all the lies, all the lies for who to blame
All the shame and all the vain

Broken and sombre

(Chorus) :

Take me
Broken and sombre
And face me
Stare into the eyes of a shadow
This unforgiving world that I've built for myself
Take me
Broken and somber
And face me
Stare into the eyes of a shadow

This apathetic world that I've built for myself

(Outroduction) :
Myself, broken and sombre
