

Way to Go

Empire of the Sun

Surfing snow
Are you ready for
A revolution to show the way
Seven whole weeks until the dayBecause heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old thingsDoesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start againWhile hearts beat
It's nothing like before
Dreaming is the home of the brave
Future is the healing of pain
Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old thingsDoesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's
ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start againDoesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start againLike a cannonball shot across the floor
We have found a way through the darkest hour
Like a cannonball shot across the floor
We have little time for worry
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
