

Rare

Gwen Stefani

You're a sapphire, you're a rolling stone
You're a sparkle in a deep black hole
You're like moonshine when the curtains close
You're my answer, one that no one knows
And I can't believe it that you even exist
You know I would be dumb to give perfection up
But can I accept it that this is so precious?
You know I would be dumb to give perfection up You're rare, I'm loving every second of it,
don't you know?
You're rare and only a stupid girl would let it go
You're so good and you don't even know it
You're so good and you don't even know you're rare
And only a stupid girl would let it go, don't you know?
I am broken, I am insecure and complicated
Oh yeah, that's for sure
I feel worthless, I've been hurt so bad
I get nervous you won't love me back
And I can't believe it that you even exist
You know I would be dumb to give perfection up
But can I accept it that this is so precious?
You know I would be dumb to give perfection up You're rare, I'm loving every second of it,
don't you know?
You're rare and only a stupid girl would let it go
You're so good and you don't even know it
You're so good and you don't even know you're rare
And only a stupid girl would let it go, don't you know? Do you really think you wanna make some new memories with me?
Do you really think you wanna make some new memories with me?
You're rare, I'm loving every second of it, don't you know?
You're rare and only a stupid girl would let you go
You're so good and you don't even know it
You're so good and you don't even know you're rare
And only a stupid girl would let it go
You're rare and only a stupid girl would let it go
You're rare and only a stupid girl would let it go
