

Last Damn Night

Elle King

I got one hand on the bottle, and one foot in the grave
It's been too long since I stepped, but I I I ain't got time to waste
Three long days, boy you'd better break
When that light shines on you Gonna want to stay forever and a day, but it's the night I belong to
Well the clock keeps ticking, and your time is running out
Well the clock keeps ticking, and your time is running running running runningSo, I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night
When the clock strikes twelve, we're all gonna go to hell
Said I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night
I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night!
Well I'm five seconds closer to living six feet deep,
There's seven steps to Heaven, but that stairway is just to skip Oh, my my everybody dies, but you know that I don't want to You get eight long lives, boy you gonna cry when the knife breaks your arm
Well the clock keeps ticking, and your time is running out
Well the clock keeps ticking, and your time is running running running runningSo, I'm gonna
live my life like it's my last damn night
When the clock strikes twelve, we're all gonna go to hell
Said I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night
I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night!But the clock keeps ticking,
You pretend that you're ready to go
Well it's ticking down, and slow
I know I'll ever die, is gon' hold me
'Cause I'm running running running running
So, I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night
When the clock strikes twelve, we're all gonna go to hell
Said I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night
I'm gonna live my life like it's my last damn night!
